

Mister Dancehall opens Ischgl winter 2022/23

On 26 November 2022, Sean Paul will kick-off the Ischgl winter season at the legendary "Top of the Mountain Opening Concert". Concert admission is included in the day ski pass. Skiing in the Silvretta Arena starts on 24 November 2022.

When Sean Paul, "Mister Dancehall", kicks-off the ski season in Ischgl on 26 November 2022 with the legendary "Top of the Mountain Opening Concert", the Alpine lifestyle metropolis will be dancing. With the Jamaican's multi-award-winning and billboard chart-topping dance hall grooves: hits like "Get Busy", "Got 2 Luv U", "She Doesn't Mind" and "I'm Still in Love with You" will delight the crowd as well as songs from his new album Scorcha will be played. The spectacular live concert will kick off at 18.00 in front of a stunning nocturnal mountain backdrop. In the day jump on your skis to get the see of the region. Skiers and snowboarders can hit the slopes from 24 November, when the Silvretta Arena with its 239 kilometres of cross-border pistes from Ischgl to Samnaun starts its skiing operations. New in the 2022/23 winter season is the spectacular Silvretta Spa and a MoonBikes Area down in the valley of Ischgl. The day ski pass is also the ticket to the concert and costs 80 euros per person on the day of the event. With a valid ski pass for two days or more, admission to the concert is included. ### Sean Paul

It is rare for an artist to become the personification of dancehall. With eight studio albums, Sean Paul has taken the genre all over the world, becoming a world star with his blend of dancehall, reggae, ragga and pop. The man with African, Portuguese, Chinese and English roots has made it from his origins in the clubs of Kingston, Jamaica, to the top of the charts and the biggest halls in more than 120 countries. He released his debut album Stage One in 2000, but it was the 2002 multi-platinum follow-up album Dutty Rock that catapulted him to the top of the world. Backed by five Top 15 singles, including the No. 1 hit Get Busy, Dutty Rock won the Grammy for Best Reggae Album and earned him a nomination for Best New Artist - the first time a dancehall artist had received such an award. His latest album Scorcha delivers as usual fantastic dancing vibes. In the more than 20 years of his career, Sean Paul has received multiple Grammy and Billboard Music Award nominations, an American Music Award, MOBO Awards, Soul Train Awards, MTV Music Awards, ASCAP Rhythm and Soul Music Awards, a Source Award and a BET Award. Collaborations with stars like Beyonce, Sia, Dua Lipa, Becky G., Farruko, Enrique Iglesias and Ty Dolla are still the secret of his success.
